We at PDEA's College of engineering would like to sincerely thank "Sahaja Yoga International" for conducting a meditation session for our First-year engineering students on 25th-26th April and 2nd May 2022 at our college.

The session was quite engaging and appreciated well by the participants; it was indeed a unique experience for all of them. This session will hopefully help all towards their career growth and path forward as well as in managing stress through the amazing technique of Sahaj Yoga Meditation. We once again thank Sahaja Yoga International for holding this session for the benefit of our institute and look forward to more such sessions in the future

'FITT' PRINCIPLE –

FREQUENCY, INTENSITY, TIME, AND TYPE

Understanding the F.I.T.T. principle helps you create a workout plan that will be more effective in reaching your fitness goals.

FREQUENCY: The first thing to set up with your workout plan is frequency—how often you exercise. Your frequency often depends on a variety of factors including the type of workout you're doing, how hard you're working, your fitness level, and your exercise goals.

For cardio: moderate exercise five or more days a week or, Intense cardio three days a week to improve your health. If you want to lose weight, you'll want to work up to more frequent workouts, often up to six or more days a week.

For strength training: The recommended frequency is two to three non-consecutive days a week (at least one to two days between sessions). Your frequency, however, will often depend on the workouts you're doing, because you want to work your muscles at least two times a week. If you do a split routine, like upper body one day and lower body the next, your workouts will be more frequent than total body workouts.
